Lehigh’s Environmental Initiative and Environmental Policy Program

present

Career Talk

Jennifer S. Gonzalez ’08 ’09G, Alumni Trustee
Chief Sustainability Officer for the City of Hoboken, NJ

Leigh's Environmental Initiative and Environmental Policy Program

present

Career Talk

Jennifer S. Gonzalez ’08 ’09G, Alumni Trustee
Chief Sustainability Officer for the City of Hoboken, NJ

March 1, 2018
9:00 AM to 10:30 AM
Maginnes Hall, Room 102
Join Us for this Informal Career Path Discussion!

Jennifer S. Gonzalez is the Chief Sustainability Officer for the City of Hoboken, New Jersey where she advances resiliency and sustainability initiatives in priority areas including: rainfall flooding, energy, drinking water infrastructure, natural resources, waste management, and others. Before joining the City of Hoboken, Ms. Gonzalez was a principal planner with Louis Berger. Ms. Gonzalez holds a certificate from the American Institute of Certified Planners (AICP), is a Certified Floodplain Manager (CFM), Envision Sustainability Professional (ENV SP), LEED Green Associate, and Senior Fellow with the Environmental Leadership Program. She serves on the LUAA Board of Directors, is a member of the Lehigh Alumni Club of Northern New Jersey, and has served as President of the Young Alumni Council. She earned her M.A. in Environmental Policy from Lehigh as a presidential scholar in 2009, after earning her B.A. in International Relations in 2008.

Office of Interdisciplinary Programs: 610-758-3996 | incasip@lehigh.edu